Charley Rose, of Hazel Green, was around here trying to buy cattle for the Mt. Sterling market.

Valentine Brewer, of Coppers creek, Menifee county, visited his father, Jeff Brewer, the first of last week.

Bill Elkins and wife, who have been visiting friends on Stillwater for the past few days, went to Hazel Green Saturday.

A number of saplings fell across the road on the Stillwater side of the Laurel hill, blocking public travel. The cause was due to the sleet and snow.

The Wolfe county board of education is to meet at Campton Wednesday, and will endeavor to establish a county high school at that place and employ a teacher.

Herman and Earnest Tyra and Harold Barker, who are attending school at Hazel Green Academy, came over home Saturday, returning to Hazel Green Monday evening.

We have no news items of any importance to write up this week. The writer has been a convalescent patient for four or five days past and could not glean up the news in this section as he would like to have done.

Jan. 10. DOMINGO.

Mort Cecil, wife and son, Lovey Dovey, and Miss Jane Taulbee took a sleigh ride Sunday to the home of Mrs. Joe Lee Oldfield, at Mize. All report a gala time.

Four wagons and teams passed up the state road Friday. They left Breathitt county some time ago for Missouri and were returning. The writer failed to learn the names of the parties.

Will Williams, who was elected justice of the peace, held court January 7. This was his first court and he claims that he held two the same day—his first and last. He resigned the next day.

Prof. Kelly Wheeler closed his school at this place Friday. The community was well pleased with his efforts of teaching the children and all regretted to see him leave. He left Monday for his home at West Liberty.

Prof. Sherman Barker, the man of music, gave exhibitions at several homes on the creek to show the musical power of his graphophone. Those who heard the refined music say it was splendid. Come again, Sherman, and always bring the graphophone.

The Weather in Utah.

Fort Duchesne, Utah,
January 10, 1910.
Spencer Cooper, Hazel Green, Ky.
Dear Sir: I trust that you will pardon for breaking in on your valuable time long enough to ask that you glance over the enclosed clipping for I want you to see just how cold it gets out in this land of "Mormondom." The clipping is from one of the local papers—the Duchesne Record—and deals with places that are near Fort Duchesne, which did not escape any of the cold spoken of. At Fort Duchesne it was 40 degrees below zero. It is needless to comment on the weather when it gets this cold for it is just about one's imagination, but it makes a fellow long for "the Sunny South" just the same.
Wishing you a prosperous new year, and with best regards for Mrs. Cooper, I am,
Yours very truly,
H. C. WARD.

"Theodore has not been in a class by itself in the recent few weeks of cold. Going farther east, Meeker had a touch of 41 degrees below; Steamboat, 44; Frazer, well up the Continental divide on the Moffat road, 60 below; and a letter from Denver to the Record states that on top of the Divide the mercury dropped to 62 and then busted. However, there is a little consolation in the fact that there are other spots in this north-west colder than here, and it does not help Theodore's chilblains or frosted feet a bit, or increase the size of the woodpile, to know that some other unfortunate neck of the woods has been a few degrees worse off than the reservation."

Lo, the Horse.

In the midst of the present extravaganzas of automobile and aeroplane racing it is refreshing to take notice, occasionally, of the horse. Witness the feat of an Illinois horse who belongs to a mail carrier. He has traveled 26 miles a day for 22 months, or a total of over 17,000 miles. It is impressive to note that in all this distance this horse did not puncture a tire, lose a bolt, wear out a bearing, foul a spark plug or run out of gasoline ten miles from home. Moreover, he did not once exceed a speed limit, run over a hog or skid on a corner. His chauffeur never killed his engine on a hill, nor did he have to get out after an hour or two and crank him from in front. The horse climbed every hill, and pulled through every mudhole, and at the end of the 17,000 miles his owner did not find that it would cost about $100 to replace his bearing, rebuild his magneto, and take the carbon out of his cylinders. Truly, the horse may be humble, but there is much comfort in him. —Anora Bacon.

Bridal Couple Entertained.

Bushon, Ill., Jan. 8.—In honor of Mr. and Mrs. Howard James, who were married New Year's day at Ridge Farm, Ill., who returned to this village Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. James entertained 40 guests with a 12 o'clock dinner Friday.

Saturday, January 1, Mr. James left Bushon for Ridge Farm, where he was met by Miss Mary Brenne-man, a popular and accomplished young woman of Russellville, Ala., where their marriage was solemnized by the Rev. L. C. Juvinall, pastor of the Methodist church, in Ridge Farm. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. James left for Crawfordville, Ind., where they visited at the home of a sister of Mrs. James for several days. On leaving that city they visited with Frankfort, Ind., relatives and friends until Thursday, when they came to Bushon to make their future home.

Mrs. James, a native of Hazel Green, Ky., has been in this vicinity for three years. He is a clerk in the general store of E. H. James, where he numbers the patrons and friends of the store as his personal friends. His pleasing personality and good nature has given him the friendship of everyone in this village. He is popular with all who know him.

Mrs. James, who comes from one of the first families of the south, is popular in her home city. She leaves a host of friends in the south who wish Mr. and Mrs. James a long, happy and prosperous life. The Courier heartily joins their friends in extending congratulations.—Charleston (Ill.) Courier.

An Empty Treasury.

From the Treasury Department a communication was received showing that the cash balance now on hand belongs to the school fund, from which the legislators must be paid. The communication showed that the treasury owes more to the schools than can be met from funds now on hand, and that something must be done, if the wheels of government continue to run smoothly. The communication was signed by Auditor F. P. James and Treasurer E. Farley.

On motion of Representative Carter, of Anderson county, the speaker was instructed to appoint a committee of three members to advise with the treasurer and auditor, and report back to the House. The motion was seconded by Representative Harris.

The speaker appointed Representatives Carter, Russell and Schobert on the committee.

Contest is Dropped.

In the legislature last week, Chairman L. C. Owings, of the committee appointed to consider the contest proceedings of Malone Lykins, Democrat, against J. W. Perry, independent Democrat, for the seat in the House of the Morgan and Wolfe district, reported the finding of the committee. It was that Malone Lykins, the contestant, had withdrawn from the contest in a subjoined letter, in which, while he reiterated his claim that he had been rightfully elected, he said that he withdrew in the interest of harmony, in view of the fact that the Democratic party had a two-third majority without his vote.

This report was received and accepted, but the committee, on request of its chairman, was not discharged.

Narrow Escape.

Mrs. Thor. Heinrich and James O'Connell and Joe Heinrich all had a narrow escape from death Tuesday morning at the Goodyear Shoe Repair company's plant on South Maysville street. Escaping gas was the cause. All were at work, but peculiarly enough none smelled the gas and were gradually being suffocated, when Mrs. Heinrich, who was near the door and least affected, realized that something was wrong. She immediately summoned help and averted a catastrophe.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

Gets Census Job.

Kelly Back, of Jackson, Thursday received a telegram from the Census Department at Washington notifying him of his appointment as clerk in the Census Bureau at that place at a salary of $800 a month and asking him to report at once. Mr. Back was one of the successful contestants in the examination which was held at Lexington October 23, to fill the vacancies in the department at Washington. He is a son of former Circuit Clerk W. D. Back and a former student of State University.

In the books the women return letters from discarded lovers unread, but in real life curiosity would arouse them from a death-bed, if necessary, to break the seal.

First Interview to be Given Out by Supervisor.

"The simple test which candidates for enumerators' places will undergo February 5 does take not away the supervisors' right under the census law to designate suitable persons for such positions," said J. F. Pauly, of Pikeville.

"It is designed to aid the supervisors in the exercise of that discretion and to enable the census director intelligently to use the power of approval of the supervisors' designations conferred upon him by law.

"It is very well understood that President Taft, Secretary Nagel and Census Director Durand all hold the supervisors responsible for the enumeration. There is no doubt, therefore, that our first and most important duty is the selection of honest, capable and active persons to make the count.

"The census will be taken, not by the Census Bureau officers or the supervisors, but by the enumerators. They are the ones who come in contact with the people and get the facts. Unless every single enumerator does his whole and proper duty there can not be a correct census. There can not be anything of greater scientific value to this country than accurate statistics as the basis of a study of the existing conditions regarding our population, agriculture, manufactures, and mines and quarries.

"All persons, unless specifically disqualified, are entitled to apply to take the test. Only those under 18 years of age and over 70, and those who have not become citizens of the United States, are barred. Otherwise, all persons, regardless of sex and political affiliations, are eligible. It is left to my judgment whether it is wise to appoint women in my district. They can do the work, I have no doubt, especially in certain parts of the district. There were a good many employed all over the country in the Twelfth Census.

"The time for closing the consideration of applications is January 25. Those received after that date will have to be ignored. Applications should be addressed in writing to me at this office and not to the Census Director.

"I will send inquirers the necessary form and instructions concerning it. Afterward I will send those on the list, prior to the test, a set of directions for filling out the test papers. This will enable everyone to come well prepared. Nothing could be fairer or better calculated to insure a satisfactory applicant passing the test.

"The test itself need not deter anyone. Any person with common sense and a common-school education can pass it. All it consists of is giving the candidates sample population and agricultural schedules, upon which are to be written in the proper columns the required details, which are found in printed descriptions, in narrative form, of typical families and farms supposed to be in a district. There will be some instances requiring the exercise of judgment to decide whether a given entry should be made under one column heading or another. You can see how simple and elementary it is.

"The test will be held all over the country and in every supervisor's district February 5. There will be several places in each district for taking it. One place would be insufficient. It would not hold all the candidates. As supervisor, I shall have the direction of all, and the test examination at each, no matter under what official agency it is held, will be that sole and simple one prescribed by the Census Director.

"I am given until February 22 to rate the papers in a very simple way, and to gain an idea of the qualifications of those rated as having passed. Next I will forward the papers of the successful candidates, with my recommendations or designations, to the Census Director. He will, if satisfied that suitable persons have been selected, give his consent to their appointment, and they will be commissioned. The middle or latter part of March should see every thing settled, and the selected and commissioned enumerators will be sent more circulars and books of instructions relative to the interpretation or meaning of the questions on the two schedules.

"April 15 the census army will move forward in the enumeration. "Certainly the federal census-taking is as necessary as honorable as jury duty, and, as all good and useful citizens do not hesitate to respond to the call for such duty, I therefore ask the same high-grade citizenship to come forward and help me have the census taken accurately and expeditiously.

"As President Taft has said, the pay is not large, but the work is worth doing well, and some day we shall all feel proud in the consciousness that we had a part, however humble, in taking this census."

BARGAIN

SUBSCRIPTION OFFER.

One Day Only—Jan. 31, 1910.

Hundreds of our readers take a daily paper as well as ours to keep fully abreast of the news of the world.

There is no better daily paper, at any price, to be had in the State of Kentucky, than the Louisville Daily Herald. It is under a new management and as good as it has always been; it is better today than ever.

It is a clean family sheet, allowing no objectionable advertising of any kind to be published.

It has the finest local news service of any daily paper in the State. It has the Associated Press telegraphic news of the world; it has amusing pictures from its own cartoonist every day, splendid half-tone pictures showing local and world events, and a fearless, independent editorial page, always fair and interesting even to those who differ politically with the editorial opinion.

The regular price of the Daily Herald is $3 a year by mail, and the regular price of our paper is $1 a year by mail. By a special arrangement we are able to make the wonderful offer of

LOUISVILLE DAILY HERALD, regular price $3 a year) BOTH FOR HAZEL GREEN HERALD, regular price $1, worth $4) $2.75

if subscription is received at our office not later than January 31, 1910. Positively no subscription will be accepted at less than the regular price if received in envelope postmarked later than January 31. Send U. S. or express money order, bank draft or currency in registered letter.

Subscription to either paper may be new or renewal, and will date one year from January 31, 1910, or one year from the date at which present subscriptions expire. If you have paid up your subscription for our paper, send $2 for subscription to the Louisville Herald alone.

You May Need It

Ask your doctor about the wisdom of your keeping Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, ready for colds, coughs, croup, bronchitis. If he says it's all right, then get a bottle of it at once. Why not show a little foresight in such matters? Early treatment, early cure.

We publish our formulae. We banish alcohol from our medicines. We urge you to consult your doctor.

Ayer's
Many a boy is called dull and stupid, when the whole trouble is due to a lazy liver. We firmly believe your own doctor will tell you that an occasional dose of Ayer's Pills will do such boys a great deal of good. They keep the liver active.

THE HERALD.

C. F. Kash went to Campton Wednesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Foreman were in town Wednesday.

Mrs. Alvin Oldfield, of Daysboro, visited her sister, Mrs. Harlan McClure, Saturday and Sunday.

V. C. Clark, of Maytown, representing Trimble Grocery Co., of Mt. Sterling, stopped over one night in town this week.

Lindsey Ware, formerly of this place, is employed with a big lumber company in Cincinnati, and said to be doing quite well.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Jimmie Perkins is at the home of his father-in-law, E. F. Cecil, where he is threatened with pneumonia. At any rate, he is quite sick.

G. B. Stamper, esq., Jake Fuls and Grover Allen, esq., were among the Campton visitors to our place Monday and all of them were at the Day House.

Miss Calla Rose, of Ezel, has been visiting friends at Campton and on her return home was a guest of Roxie Daniel from Monday until Wednesday.

Noah Cisco and wife, formerly of this place, are both teachers in the East Kentucky Normal School, at Catlettsburg, members of a most excellent and select faculty.

Miss Iva Weekly, a former student at the academy, who now lives in Louisville, came in a few since, but it is not known whether she is just a visitor or if she will again attend school.

Strolling over the town a few days ago "Our Man About Town" noticed that many places in the sidewalks are dangerous for pedestrians, and the sooner they are attended to the better for the village.

Bill Sparks, who lives on Tom Lee's farm, on Grassy, fell Tuesday morning and broke his right arm at the wrist joint. Dr. Taylor Center was called and set the broken limb and left the patient resting easy.

A little child of Tom Walter and wife, near town, was severely burned Saturday. It caught fire from an open fire and before assistance reached it one of its hand and its throat were burned. But nothing serious will result.

Roe Nickell, esq., of West Liberty; Will Kash, of Jackson, and Steve Sample, of Campton, are here taking depositions in the case of the heirs of Uncle Pres Trimble. We do not know just how they are disposed, but they are all in the case.

Mort Wilson, of Grassy, sold his crop of tobacco, 2,650 pounds, at 12 cents all around, which is considered a good price. It demonstrates beyond question that tobacco is the best paying crop our farmers can produce. And we hope another year will see a large acreage put out.

Requiescat in Pace.

Joshua Finch, the subject of this sketch, was born at Belmont, Ohio, Oct. 8th, 1823, and died at Maytown, Ky., Dec. 2, 1900. Mr. Finch was a Union soldier in the Civil War, having enlisted in the 8th Kentucky Cavalry at Russellville, Ky., the 20th day of August, 1862. He held the office of corporal for several months and participated in several important battles during his term of service. At the close of the war he was mustered out or honorably discharged at Russellville, Ky., in September, 1868, but subsequently served six months in the state service. Many of our citizens remember him as a quiet, inoffensive old gentleman, who pursued his occupation of carpenter for a good many years and attended strictly to his own business. Everybody spoke of him as Uncle Josh Finch and he was always treated with the utmost respect. For the past several years he was too feeble to work, but in his declining years he made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Robert Gilly, of Maytown, living upon his pension. Beside Mrs. Gilly, he leaves a son, J. B. Finch (Barnie), who lives on Stillwater, and possibly other children whose names we do not recall. His wife also survives him and she lives with Mrs. Gilly, her daughter.

Through all his life his noble work. A monument now stands, Though now he rests beneath the sod, And quiet are his hands. And at a ripe old age, He gave up life's last key, And left a record, pure and clear, For all the world to see.

In Memory of A. J. Center.
Hazel Green, Jan. 12, 1910.

Dear Mr. Cooper:

I arrived home with my brother, A. J. Center, who died at Aibouquerque, N. M., December 27, 1909. He had moved to that territory some four years ago for health, he having tuberculosis. He was taken in the custody of the Odd Fellows and buried in the old family graveyard on Stillwater, known as the Zilda Stamper burying place. It was a bad, rainy day, but the service was well conducted and will be long remembered by all who witnessed it. The burial took place January 5. The family came with me also and will possibly make their future home with some of her relatives.

I wish right here to express my heartfelt thanks to Messrs. French & Lohr, the undertakers who did the embalming for the favors they showed us. Also the American Lumber Co. and the men laboring for them, for when the I. O. O. F. refused him burial expenses and we did not have the money to bear the expense, those people lovingly gave $70.50 in cash, which enabled us to get away in a decent manner.

They said they knew him and his condition. Now I hope that none of these noble-hearted men ever have any such trouble, but if they ever do I hope that I may be in position to show them how much I appreciate their kindness.

DR. G. M. CENTER.

The report comes to us that over one-third and possibly nearly half of the crowd which attended the play, "Out of Bondage," at the academy Saturday night got in at a side entrance and did not pay any admission fee. Indeed, the receipts at the door did not begin to compare with the number of people in the audience, which very plainly showed that there was "something rotten in Denmark." The Glee Club was, therefore, very much discouraged, especially as they anticipated a good house with good pay.

Lone Wolf, Okla., Jan. 7, '10.

Spencer Cooper, Hazel Green, Ky.

Dear Mr. Cooper: As the time of my subscription to THE HERALD expires in March, next, I will herewith enclose you money order for $1, for which please extend my subscription to the dear old HERALD one year from the time it expires. Success to THE HERALD and best wishes to the editor and Mrs. Cooper, I beg to remain, very truly yours,

JOHN A. BIRK.

Henry Ward, of Utah, sends us a clipping from the Duchesne Record, which shows some bitterly cold weather in the Mormon lands and thereabouts. The item will be found elsewhere in this paper and should be read by all who think we have had cold weather here.

This section was last week visited by one of the severest spells of winter that has been experienced for many years. Notwithstanding the heavy snows in this section they are not to be compared with what it has been in the bluegrass, where it was about 10 inches on the level and traveling over some roads almost impossible, while thermometers registered as low as 4 degrees below zero.

Howard James and Miss Mary Brennenman were married at Ridge Farm, Ill., on New Year's day. Miss Eliza James, formerly of this place, but now of Bushon, Ill., gave the bridal couple a reception, after which they made a short bridal tour. Both of the contracting parties formerly lived in Hazel Green, and their marriage is the culmination of a long courtship. THE HERALD and all their friends about here wish them all the joys attendant upon married life.

KENTUCKY KERNELS

Carefully Collated and Concisely Chronicled.

As the result of a toy pistol explosion, Mark Bennett, of Mayfield, last week died of lockjaw. The accident occurred Christmas eve.

Col. John W. Powling, editor of the Nicholas Advocate, at Carlisle, was suddenly stricken with paralysis and is in a critical condition.

A bill introduced in the legislature by William Shanks, of Lincoln county, exempts men who have reached the age of 65 years from jury duty.

The toll paid by Kentucky hunters during the open season which ended with the last of the year was twenty-five injured, eleven of whom died.

Judge John C. Voris, a rising young lawyer, was found in his law office in Georgetown with a bullet in his brain. The cause of the suicide is not known.

Mrs. Martha Corder, her daughter, Mrs. James Kidd, and three small children were incinerated in a fire which destroyed Kidd's house at Flavens, in Wayne county.

Chief of Police J. J. Peel, of Nicholasville, has obtained a requisition for the return from Cincinnati of Bernice Hopewell, who is wanted for the murder of Sam Hale.

In a difficulty between negroes near Stoops, in Bath county, Steve Botts received a knife thrust in the right eye, which went through the eyeball and destroyed the sight.

As the result of a row in the shoe factory in the Frankfort penitentiary, Sherman Powell is in the prison hospital suffering from several knife wounds inflicted by a negro named Jockey Burns.

Ed Burns, one of the oldest convicts in the Frankfort penitentiary, died last week at the ripe old age of 86 years. He had served two years of a five-year sentence on a charge of obtaining money by false pretense.

John Gregory, of Wayne county, oiled his pistol with nitro-glycerine by mistake. When he snapped the hammer the explosion blew off a hand, broke his jawbone and badly mutilated his face. He may recover.

The old First National Bank, of West Liberty, which was purchased by W. C. Greening, of Lexington, and others, has been incorporated under the Kentucky state laws as the Commercial Bank of West Liberty, with a capital stock of $15,000.

In his annual message to the council Mayor John Skain, of Lexington, recommends that the license of saloons be increased from $150 to $500, and further says this will have the effect of weeding out low dives where crime generally flourishes.

Mrs. Howard Lackey, of Bedford, in Trimble county, saved the life of her four-year-old daughter who fell into a rain barrel while trying to get a drink. Mrs. Lackey arose from a sick bed when she missed the child and found her floating on top of the water.

Earl Thompson, who so brutally assaulted Mrs. Ransom Roberts, in Grant county, last fall, was hanged in the jail yard at Williamson last Friday. To the last he refused the services of a minister and said his sins were forgiven. Death was due to strangulation after hanging 17 minutes.

Crazed by the thought of the disgrace that would follow his arrest for passing bad checks in Louisville, A. C. Hill, a confessed swindler, loaded a revolver and tried to kill Emma Metz, a 19-year-old girl whom he had induced to run away with him, and himself. Officers wrested the weapon from him and took him to jail.

Legal separation may not be granted to Mrs. Youtsey, of Winchester, altho her husband, Henry Youtsey, convicted for taking part in the murder of Governor Goebel, has occupied a felon's cell for 10 years. A special demurrer was filed by Youtsey, who claims that his wife can not legally get a divorce because she waited five years after his conviction to enter her suit.

He Wouldn't Advertise.
Breathes there a man with soul so dead, Who never to himself hath said, "My trade of late is getting bad, I'll try another ten-inch ad." If such there be go mark him well, For him no bank account shall swell; No angel watch the golden stair, To welcome home a millionaire. The man who never asks for aid, By local line or ad displayed, Cares more for rest than worldly gain, And patronage but gives him pain. Tread lightly, friends, let no rude sound Disturb his solitude profound; Here let him live in calm repose, Unsought except by men he owes. And when he dies go plant him deep, That naught may break his dreamless sleep. Wherein no clamor may dispel The quiet that he loved so well. And that the world may know its loss Place on his grave a wreath of moss, And on a stone above, "Here lies A man who wouldn't advertise."

Lost Their Tools.
The company drilling a test well for oil and gas on the farm of Jas. Elkins, on Lacy creek, and who have heretofore lost two strings of tools, causing much delay and loss, Monday last, just as they had decided to drill no deeper—being then down some 1,650 feet—lost another string of tools, caused by the accidental dropping of a large monkey wrench in the hole, which fell in such a manner as to fasten the stem which was at the bottom, and in trying to pull out the rope it broke at the stem, leaving the tools fastened. Thus three strings are lost in a space of 20 feet square. We understand the rig is to be located at and drilling gone into on the farm of Logan Little, on Gillmore, next. Only a small and unsatisfactory supply of gas was found at Mr. Elkins's.

Not Battleships but Bread.
If some of the millions now being expended in preparation for wars that will never come, were devoted to the making of good roads and improving inland waterways, our vast population would be better housed and better fed, says the Farm Journal. It is clear that it is not battleships this country needs, but better means of getting to market. This is another subject to talk over with your congressman when he solicits your vote.

20 Years With Heart Trouble

"Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has cured me of heart disease of over 20 years' standing. I was so bad that I could not do my work, and could scarcely draw a full breath without fainting or smothering. The doctor told me he could do no more for me; then I commenced taking the Heart Remedy. I shall never forget that night. I slept better than I had before in months. I kept right on getting better, until I was perfectly well."

MRS. LAURA RUSSELL,
Logan, Iowa.

When the heart action is weak, it fails to pump the blood through the lungs with sufficient rapidity. Then the lungs do not absorb the proper amount of oxygen, although they may be taking in a normal amount of air. The result is shortness of breath, smothering spells, difficult breathing, oppressed feeling in chest. Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy strengthens the heart nerves and muscles, and in this way, increases the circulation.

AMERICA'S GREATEST WEEKLY.

THE TOLEDO BLADE,
TOLEDO, OHIO.

The Best Known Newspaper in the United States.

CIRCULATION, - - - 200,000

Popular in Every State.

The seventy-fourth year of its existence finds the Toledo Blade more popular than at any period of its remarkable career. It is now read each week by more than a million people. Its field is not circumscribed by State boundaries, but involves the length and breadth of the United States, giving it an unquestionable right of claiming to be the greatest national weekly newspaper in the country.

The Weekly Blade is distinctly a family newspaper. The one object of its publishers has always been to make it fit for the American home, for the fireside, and of interest to every member of the family. To fulfill this purpose it is kept clean and wholesome. The news of the world is handled in a comprehensive manner, and the various departments of The Blade are edited with painstaking care. The Household page is a delight to the women and children; current affairs are treated editorially without prejudice; the serial stories are selected with the idea of pleasing the greatest number of fiction lovers; the Question Bureau is a scrapbook of information; the Farmstead columns are conducted with the purpose of giving the patrons a medium for the exchange of ideas and information on farm topics. No department is neglected, and every feature is taken care of with the idea of making The Blade worth many times the price of subscription—one dollar a year. Sample copies mailed free. Address,

TO CENSUS SUPERVISORS.

The Secretary's Vigorous Address Following the President's.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29, 1909. —Secretary Nagel of the Department of Commerce and Labor, under whose supervision is the work of the Bureau of the Census, at the conference of eastern state supervisors here, gave a vigorous talk on the subject of their duty, in which he emphasized and added to what had been said by the president to the census field chiefs previously at the White House. The secretary said:

"I wanted a chance to meet you—not to speak to you, but to shake hands and possibly exchange a word here and there as occasion might offer. There is a further reason why it will be difficult for me to say anything at this time. We have a rule that after the President has spoken his secretaries have nothing to say. [Laughter.] I happened to be in the White House when you were there and heard what the President said. To now repeat would not give emphasis; to add is barely pardonable."

"I am very glad that you did have an opportunity, however, to meet the President himself and to hear from him just what the attitude of the Executive on this matter of the taking of the census is; and I am glad that he had an opportunity to say to you how thoroughly he is in earnest about what he has heretofore said."

"It is unnecessary for me to dwell upon the importance of a correct census. Of course, we want to take a better census than has ever before been taken—and that is no disparagement of the work of predecessors. We ought to improve; we ought to improve for reasons which are self-evident; we ought to improve because the need for a correct and adequate census now is greater than it has ever been before. It is so on account of the growth of our own country, and because we are coming into relations with other countries, so that a correct report and a reliable statement, to be used not only at home but for comparison with what other countries are doing, is the one essential foundation of all calculations."

"Now, we have done, as we think, what we can to accomplish that result. So far as we could, we have placed in charge here at the head men who are experienced, competent, and enthusiastic. Of course, the office here might be perfect in its machinery and its administration, and yet the entire work would be a failure unless you did what the President indicated this morning. After all, granting a false premise anything can be proved. No matter how fine the superstructure may be, if the foundation is not right the building is not worth anything. It is for you to furnish the foundation for what is going to be done. You are responsible to the Directors, to me, and to the President. This is the importance of your position."

"Now, there is a lot of human nature in this thing, as was indicated to you this morning. You will have to be judges of a good many things, and you will have to show some discretion. And there is a lot of human nature beyond you when it comes to the activities of the enumerators themselves. A man might, for illustration, be a good business man and yet not be a good enumerator, because he might not have the confidence of the people with whom he has to deal. It is not always easy to get men of the right qualifications. It is easy enough to make examinations, but it must be left for you to decide, according to such examinations as you may make, and according to such judgment as you may be able to apply to the cases, who are the proper men to be recommended to the Director for the work which is to furnish the foundation of the census that is ultimately to be completed."

"Now, I trust that you are showing a lot of human nature in taking these places. When people say that the government should be run on business principles, I always reply: 'Yes, so far as book-keeping is concerned, that is true; but so far as employment of human energy is concerned, it can not be true, because the government does not pay enough to make it worth while for competent men to do what is expected.' That is the truth of it. If we did not have enthusiasm and sentiment and love of country and desire to appear right among our fellow men, the government would never succeed on business principles alone. It takes something more. It takes willingness for men to serve their country in the places to which they are called. Your places are important. I know we can not pay you, but I hope you may find your compensation in something better. When the census has been completed and Director Durand has succeeded in making it the best one that has ever been taken, you may be glad to feel that your part in it was worth while."

A Wild Blizzard Raging

When grip attacks, as you value your life, don't delay getting Dr. King's New Discovery. "One bottle cured me," writes A. L. Dunn, of Pine Valley, Miss., "after being 'laid up' three weeks with Grip." For sore lungs, hemorrhages, asthma, coughs, colds, it's supreme. 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by all dealers.

Senator McCreary For Governor.
[Lexington Evening Gazette.]

In its edition of yesterday the Gazette printed an article from the Cadiz Record suggesting ex-Senator James B. McCreary for governor. As the editor, General Henry R. Lawrence, is a devoted friend of Governor J. C. W. Beckham, who made him Adjutant General, the suggestion is significant, showing that there is desire among Governor Beckham's friends to do their best to unite the factions even if on a candidate who has generally opposed him and against whom he made rather a bitter race for the nomination of United States Senator, although neither indulged in personalities against each other and never got beyond the proper courtesies between gentlemen of their high standing.

The suggestion of Senator McCreary for governor strikes us with much force and we had intended suggesting him ourselves, but are glad that it came from one nearer to Governor Beckham than we. We believe, in the first place, he could unite all the factions of the party, because if they hate each other they love him for the excellent record that he has made as an upright and valuable official from a member of the General Assembly, governor, congressman and finally to United States senator. In every position he has acquitted himself with credit and honor and no suspicion of a stain has ever rested on his character.

As a leader he has always been able and conservative and today we believe he enjoys to a greater degree than any other Democrat in the state the respect and confidence of the party.

The writer has always been a friend of Senator McCreary, having supported him loyally in his every ambition until the primary races with Governor Beckham, when we supported the latter, not that we loved him less but the governor more, and even then we regretted that we had to choose between two such good friends. We have known Senator McCreary since he was regarded as the "model governor," have watched his course, rejoiced in his steady advancement, and we would like to cast one more vote for him.

The only thing that can be urged against Senator McCreary—and that in his case is not a valid one—is that he is not as young as he used to be, but he is as young as half of the United States Senators, is in perfect health and as active and as alert as a man half his age. One who like Senator McCreary has always taken care of himself and never gone to excesses of any kind, continues to improve with his age, like another Kentucky product, and we are sure if he will accept the nomination he will make an active canvass and carry Kentucky by the largest majority since the days of the immortal Samuel J. Tilden, who carried it by 60,000 majority.

Another thing, no question can be raised of Senator McCreary's Democracy. It is as pure as the Christmas; he is a Democrat at all times and under all circumstances, and his private life is as pure as his public is clean. In short and in fine, he would make an ideal candidate and swing the party back into its best traditions. If the Democratic leaders are wise they will consider this suggestion long and well, if the senator is willing to make the race, and get busy for the reinstatement and rehabilitation of the party of the people.
